BEYOND APPROVAL RATINGS

Everyone seems to have an answer about how to improve the country. As the political landscape grows increasingly impassioned during this election season, there is no shortage of opinions as to how the next President should lead. What if you were given the opportunity to be one of the President's closest advisors? What if you were given the opportunity to influence the perspective of the leadership of a country? An organization? A family? What would you advise?

QUIET TIME QUESTIONS

1. Write the name of a leader you had to follow or work for who you had little or no respect for. What were the main things that created that lack of respect?
2. Write down what it means to have moral authority. Is moral authority a requirement for leadership? Can you think of Biblical examples of men or women you respect?
3. Read Nehemiah 5:6-13. What is the reason the nobles and officials decided to stop charging interest? Why would this request be ignored in today's financial culture?
4. Read Nehemiah 5:14-19. Nehemiah's previous actions as governor influenced a favorable response from the nobles and officials because his words were reflected in his actions. How influential is a leader's character in deciding whether or not to follow that leader?
5. Write down aspects of your life and leadership that you need to re-examine in light of Nehemiah's story? Ask people you are close to at work and at home what they see in your life and leadership that can improve.

CHANGING YOUR MIND

But out of reverence for God I did not act like that. Instead, I devoted myself to the work on this wall. All my men were assembled there for the work; we did not acquire any land.

Nehemiah 5:15-16
